MR. BRYAN IN ALEXANDRIA.

ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING BY A LARGE CONCOURSE.—SOUTHERN RAILWAY DEPT. PACKED—SHORT ADDRESS BY MR. BRYAN—FLOWERS PRESENTED—SALUTATIONS AS THE TRAIN PASSED THROUGH HENRY STREET.

Mr. Bryan was accorded an old-fashioned Alexandria welcome as the train bearing him and his party passed through this city about half past seven o'clock this morning. There was a veritable sea of heads which extended from the intersection of Duke and Henry streets, covering most of the depot yard, and which for a time rendered the movement of cars impossible and brought business to a complete standstill. There were many ladies in the throng and hundreds of boys and girls, all of whom were anxious to get a look at the renowned standard bearer of democracy.

The train was an hour late, and a large number of working men who were extremely anxious to participate in the greeting to Mr. Bryan gathered at the depot about half-past six o'clock, the time the train was due, upon learning that it was an hour late they reluctantly turned away and went to their several occupations bearing looks of disappointment. It soon became generally known that Mr. Bryan would not reach Alexandria before half-past seven o'clock, and as that time approached the crowd which had been waiting for nearly an hour grew into very large proportions. A small army of the younger generation who had been in another quarter of the city watching the entry of the circus, having seen all that was possible in that line, shortly after seven o'clock stampeded toward the depot and a few minutes' time had like a cloud of eastern locusts, settled upon everything. The tops of box cars were soon crowded and the railroad tracks in the yard were blocked by the young democracy. Officers Knight, Davis, Wilkinson and Good passed to and fro continually and by their united efforts kept the main track clear and the people upon the platform as the time for the arrival of the train approached.

All were anxiously awaiting the welcome sound of the chime whistle of the C. & O. train which all the time was running at its highest rate of speed in attempts to make up for lost time. While the crowds at the depot at an hour earlier were on the lookout for the train it was winding its way in the neighborhood of historic Bull Run and passing omen, a beautiful rainbow was spanning the western heavens, and the rainbow and his party from the rear of the coach were sniffing the early morning breeze of the Old Dominion and glancing at the divine emblem of promise which may be indicative of the deliverance of this great republic from its transition to imperialism, militarism, the reign of trusts and the thousand and one ills which have been brought upon the country by soulless corporations and the party they are striving to keep in power.

At 7:25 the distant whistle of the approaching train was heard and there was a rush on the part of many for points of vantage. Some filled the ends of engines and others the platform of cars near where the train was to stop, and after a few minutes' time the long string of yellow coaches was seen gliding down the grade west of the centeries and by the time the crowd had become settled the cars were winding their way into the depot. The "Ramblor," Mr. Bryan's private car, was the last of the train, and when the locomotive drew up at the water tank at the intersection of Duke and Henry streets the last car was in the middle of the depot yard. There was a yell and a stampede made toward the private car. Mr. Bryan soon appeared, his countenance beaming with his wonted benign smile and the air was rent with cheers and yells. Some young ladies were assisted to the platform and handed Mr. Bryan beautiful floral tokens of their esteem, while many of the sterner sex climbed to the platform and shook his right hand, his left in the meantime being kept in perpetual motion in waving salutations to the enthusiastic crowd. Cries of "Speech! Speech!" went up from all directions, and a wave from the Nebraska band indicated that he had something to say in appreciation of the ovation. He spoke as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen—It is very gratifying to see such a large turn out so early in the morning to greet me in passing through your historic city, especially to see one you looked upon so often. I can only say that during my life I have witnessed much which is exceedingly encouraging, and which leads me to believe that after next month's election Virginia will have a new company in Washington.

His remarks, which were loudly applauded, were brought to an abrupt close by the starting of the train, and as it moved away the large assembly surged and followed it until its increasing speed rendered it impossible to keep up with it. Mr. Bryan remained on the platform acknowledging the salutations of large numbers of persons on Henry street and equal numbers who were at windows saluting the presidential candidate, which was continued until the train had passed from view beyond Colones.

Among those at the depot who welcomed Mr. Bryan were the officers and most members of the democratic club, members of the city committee, corporation officials and others. The town and fire bells had been rung at 6 o'clock in order to awaken all who desired to participate in the welcome.

It was generally remarked that Mr. Bryan looked remarkably well, and so far as could be judged, in no way affected by incessant toil and travel.

BERKLEY BROTHERHOOD.—Recently there has been organized in this city an order known as the Berkley Brotherhood, which is for men only. Meetings are held in Trinity Church every Sunday evening at 3 o'clock, at which interesting and entertaining addresses are made by the different pastors of the city and also some prominent men in the Y. M. C. A. work in Washington.

Men of all religious denominations are cordially welcomed to their meetings. The service lasts only one hour, and Gospel hymns Nos. 1-6 are used.

THE BARBECUE.—The executive committee having in charge the barbecue to be given on the old fair grounds tomorrow met last night at the office of Mr. C. C. Carlin and completed arrangements for the event. The following is the plan outlined by the committee in charge: Haley's band will meet in front of the democratic headquarters, in Sarepta Hall, and will give a concert at 11 a. m. At 12 o'clock it will act as an escort to the Alexandria Light Infantry, the Bryan, Stevenson and Rixey Club, City democratic committee, Third Ward democratic club, to the barbecue grounds. A band concert will be the opening event, which will commence on the grounds shortly after noon; luncheon will be served at one o'clock; speaking will commence at 3 o'clock. The ox will be roasted early in the day by the chef of the Jolly Fat Men's Club of Washington. Messrs. R. H. Cox and Charles Cuvillier were appointed a committee to look after the band and to take charge of the concert. Messrs. E. E. Downham and Henry Strauss were appointed a committee to meet Senator Martin and other distinguished guests. Notices accepting invitations and stating that they would be present and participate in the barbecue were received from the Jackson Democratic Association of Washington and the Jolly Fat Men's Club of that city. Mr. Oscar F. Carter, chairman democratic city committee, has been invited to act as the committee to order and introduce Mr. Samuel G. Brent, who will preside and introduce the speakers. The speakers will be Hon. Thomas E. Martin, Hon. John F. Rixey, Hon. J. B. McCabe, Robert Lee and others if the time will permit. It is expected that a large number of people, including many from all parts of the State, will be present.

U. D. C.—The regular monthly meeting of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment Chapter was held in the Business Men's League room last Thursday and was well attended. Business of interest and importance was considered and two applications for membership were received. The report of Mrs. McCaffrey, delegate to the State convention of the U. D. C., held in Woodstock on the 9th of the month, was received with much interest and much gratification was expressed at the acceptance by the convention of the Seventeenth's invitation to meet in Alexandria as their guests next year.

OPERA HOUSE.—The comedy element, that is so popular in all plays, is the predominant feature of "Town Topics." The company is as up to date as the play. It contains a host of clever performers, pretty girls with stunning costumes, new and fascinating dances, useful songs and various other specialties that add ginger to the general hilarity. "Town Topics" has drawn crowded houses everywhere, and as a record breaker it has no superior in farce comedy. The company will appear at the Opera House tomorrow night.

FAIR CLOSED.—The fair which for some time has been in progress at McBurney's Hall, under the auspices of Sarepta Lodge of Old Fellows, closed last night. A large crowd was present, and the members of the Alexandria Light Infantry attended in a body. The remaining goods in the booths were auctioned off. At a late hour last night the voting contests for the various articles closed and the winners were awarded their prizes. To-night a dance will be given, and the results of the various voting contests will be announced.

TO BE ARGUED.—The case of B. M. Smith vs. Pryor Mining and Chemical Company, of Virginia, will be argued before Judge Nicol at Massachus tomorrow. The complainant will be represented by Judge F. W. Simms and Mr. E. Bibb and the defendants by Messrs. C. B. Meredith and J. R. Caton. The arguments will probably continue for several days. The value of the property involved is nearly $150,000 and is located in Louisiana county.

No other pills can equal DeWitt's Little Early Risers for promptness, certainty and efficiency.
